ABSTRACT

This package consists of a curriculum guide, index, and matrix for English as a second language (ESL) programs supported by the Immigration Reform and Control Act (IRCA). The curriculum guide contains the following components: (1) an IRCA competency list for ESL beginning- and intermediate-level courses that integrates ESL and civics competencies (basic communication, consumer economics, community resources, health, occupational knowledge, and government and law); (2) a list of Comprehensive Adult Student Assessment System (CASAS) competencies for ESL/civics; (3) an IRCA bibliography; and (4) CASAS scale scores and brief descriptions of ESL instruction at the beginning and intermediate levels. The curriculum index and matrix is divided into two sections. Section 1, the curriculum index, lists publishers, their mailing addresses, and their materials that are included in the IRCA curriculum matrix. Section 2 links the information provided in Section 1 to the CASAS competencies. All entries include information about the following: publisher, topic covered, instructional program for which the material is intended, and level of instruction. (MN)

IRCA CURRICULUM INDEX AND MATRIX

TABLE OF CONTENTS

OVERVIEW

The IRCA Curriculum Index and Matrix links specific adult curriculum to the ESL/Civics competencies selected from the CASAS Competency List. Materials were recommended and reviewed by CASAS Consortium members and are competency-based, appropriate for IRCA ESL/Civics programs. The IRCA Curriculum Index and Matrix consists of two sections: the Curriculum Index and the Matrix.

SECTION I Curriculum Index - List of publishers and materials

The IRCA Curriculum Index lists publishers, their mailing addresses and materials included in the IRCA Curriculum Matrix. Each publication is assigned a letter (designating the publisher) and a number (designating a specific publication for that publisher) which is used for coding purposes in Section II.

This is a sample page from the Curriculum Index.

The letter "A" indicates the publisher. In this case it is Addison-Wesley Publishing.

The number "2" here indicates the specific material. In this example it is Lifeskills and Citizenship.

| C3 | Setting in II. Ligon, Fred, Editor, Shapiro, Toni, Writer. Brattleboro, Vermont. 1985. |

SECTION II

Curriculum Matrix

Section II links the information in Section I to the CASAS competencies. The letter and number designations (A-1, A-2, etc.) from the index in Section I are on the top line, to the right of "Publishers/Materials". The majority of the materials coded in the Matrix are appropriate for ESL (English as a Second Language) programs.

The level of instruction (for each material) is indicated by A (beginning), B (intermediate), or C (advanced). The list of CASAS Competencies (three-digit code numbers) can be found in the left-hand column of each page and the specific chapter, unit, lesson or part numbers are coded into the Matrix to the right of each competency statement and under the appropriate publication.
